

Psychotherapy & Counselling
Federation of Australia

PACFA Facebook Page Guidelines for users

Purpose and Scope

This document is designed to provide guidance to users about participating and engaging with the PACFA Facebook Page in order to prevent undesirable outcomes arising from the use of the Facebook Page.

PACFA has a Facebook Page to provide information about our activities, as a place for people to share ideas and ask questions through postings and comments. The PACFA Facebook Page provides users with up-to-date news and information and the opportunity to communicate with PACFA.

Guidelines for participation

This group is open to the public and may be accessed by any Facebook user. PACFA is not responsible for the publication of any content, including the expression of ideas, information and advice that is posted by Facebook users. PACFA will remove inappropriate content and may ban the person who posted from accessing the PACFA Facebook Page.

PACFA does not endorse any opinions, advice, statements or other information posted on the PACFA Facebook Page.

In accessing or using this Facebook Page, users agree not to post material that is defamatory, abusive or hateful, constitutes junk mail or unauthorised advertising, bullying or intimidation, or that breaches privacy laws or any other laws.

Guidelines for posts

- a) Be respectful to others, e.g. never post content that is aggressive, offensive or defamatory
- b) Always take responsibility for your comments
- c) Be honest and genuine, i.e. don't make statements that are incorrect
- d) Protect sensitive or confidential information, e.g. do not copy and paste letters from PACFA staff or office bearers; do not discuss PACFA related grievances or appeals
- e) Respect copyright and intellectual property

Moderation and administration of the group

PACFA reserves the right to moderate all content posted on this page and to remove any content that is deemed inappropriate. Any commercial postings made by any person or company will be removed without notification. The moderator of this page is the President and the site is reviewed daily on all working days.

For more information about us, visit the PACFA Facebook Page. If you have any concerns about any material on this Facebook page, please send an email to the President on natpres@pacfa.org.au who will address your concerns. All concerns or complaints will be taken seriously, in line with existing PACFA policies.